

English Club

Learning is the most powerful tool nature has put at your disposal. Use it wisely

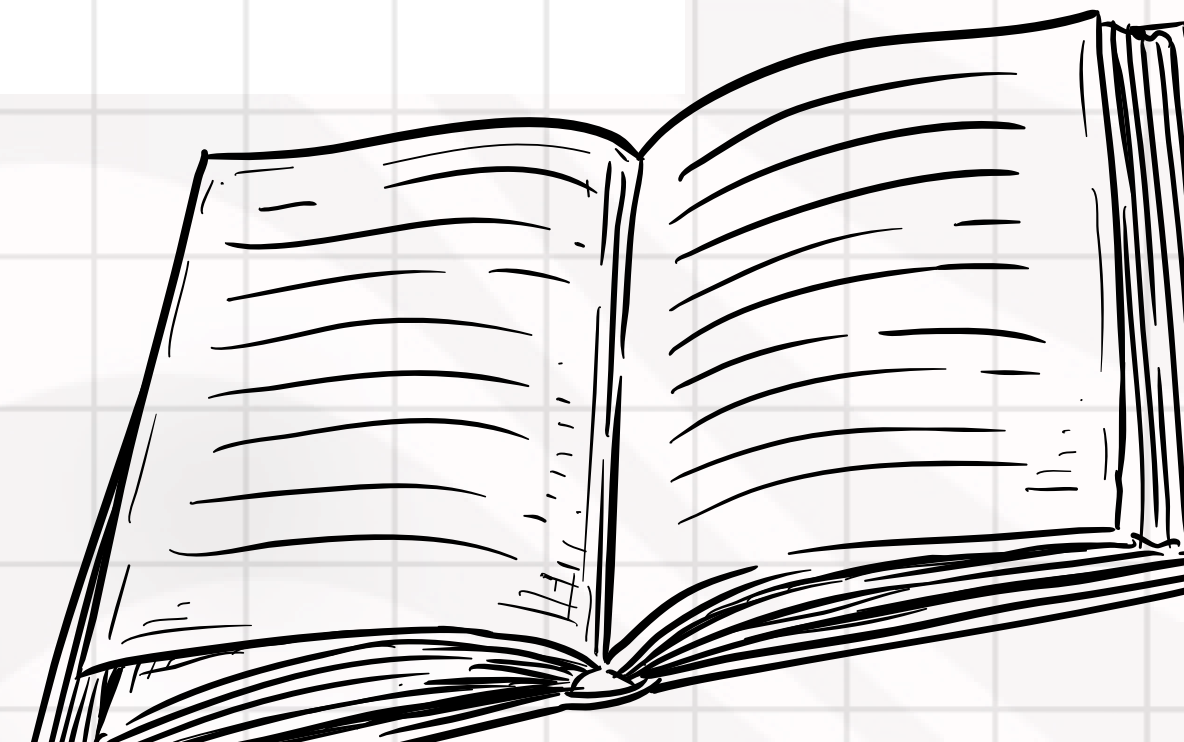

Tell us about your day

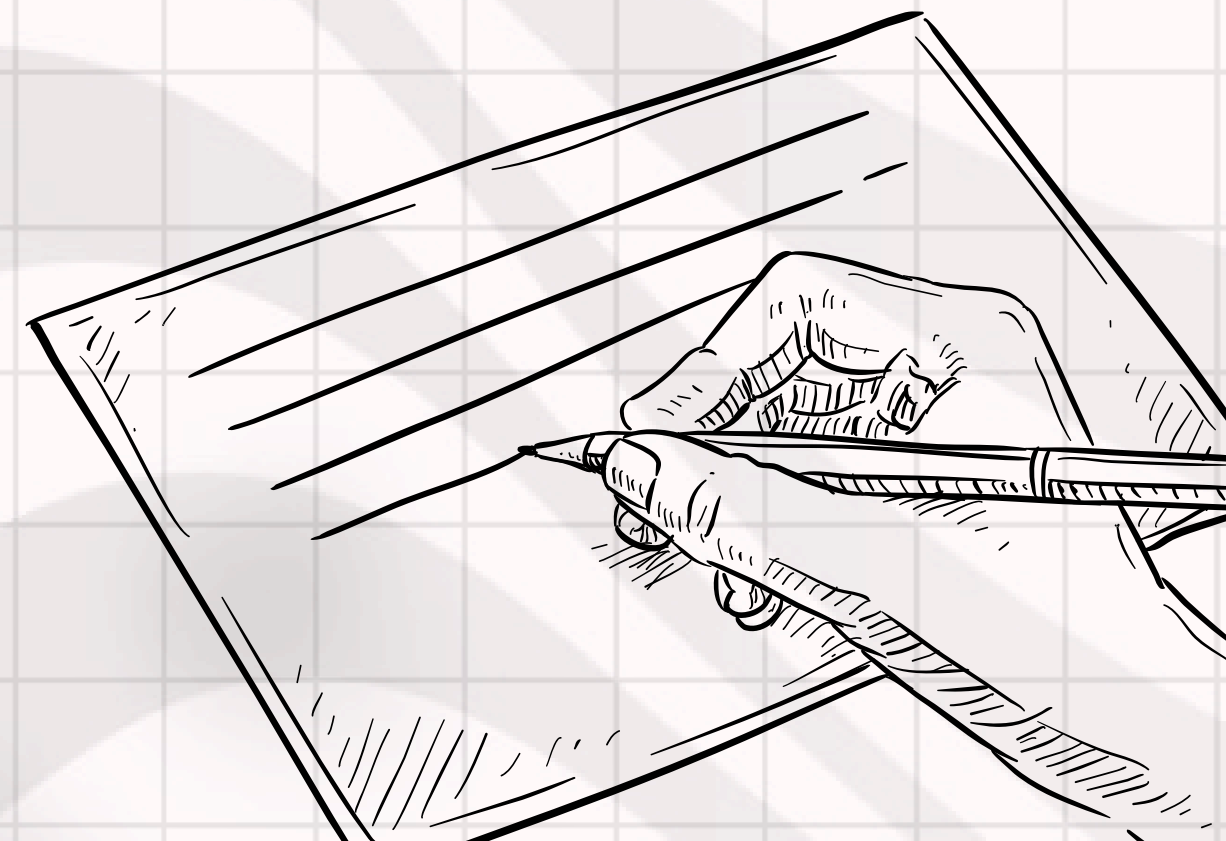

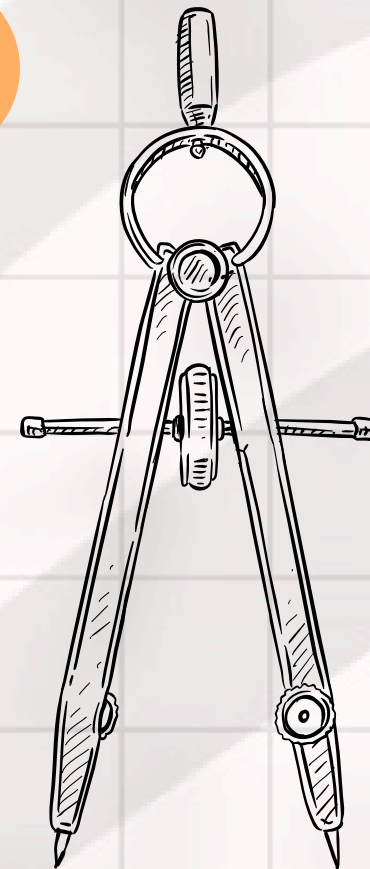

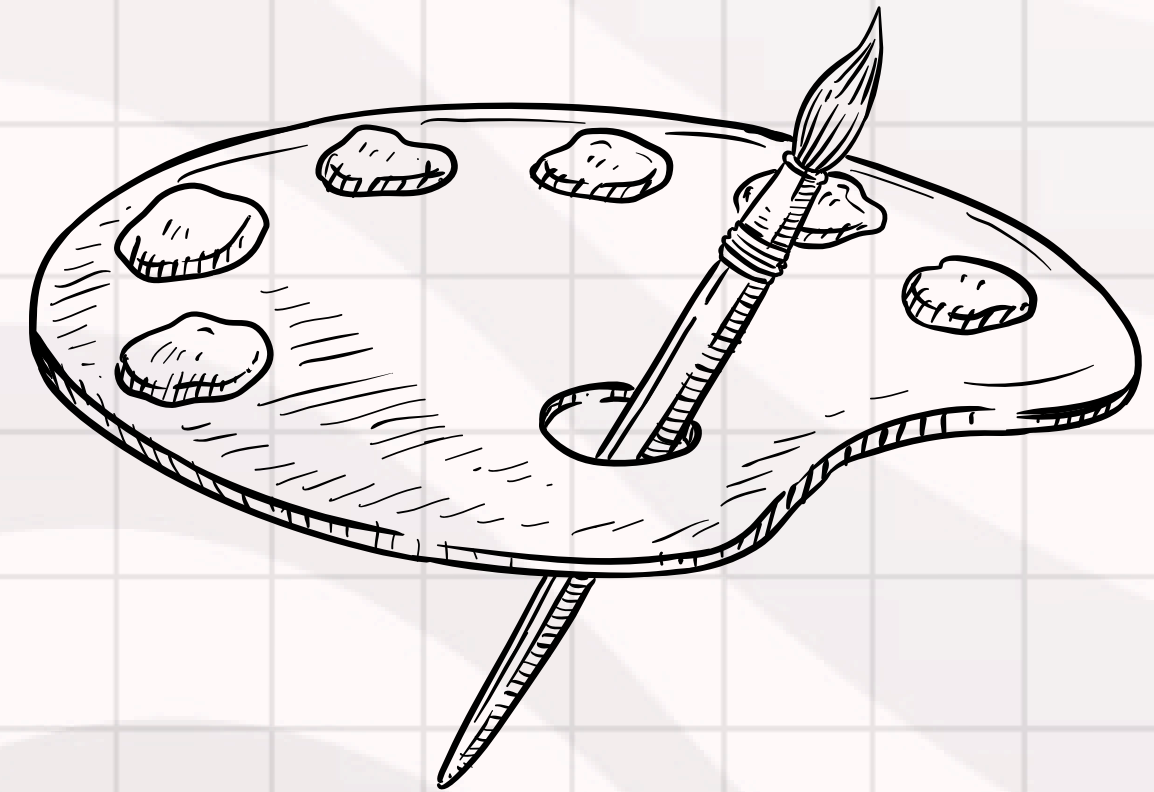

I'm sure you got a great day... Even if it was tough, i would still be glad to hear from you.

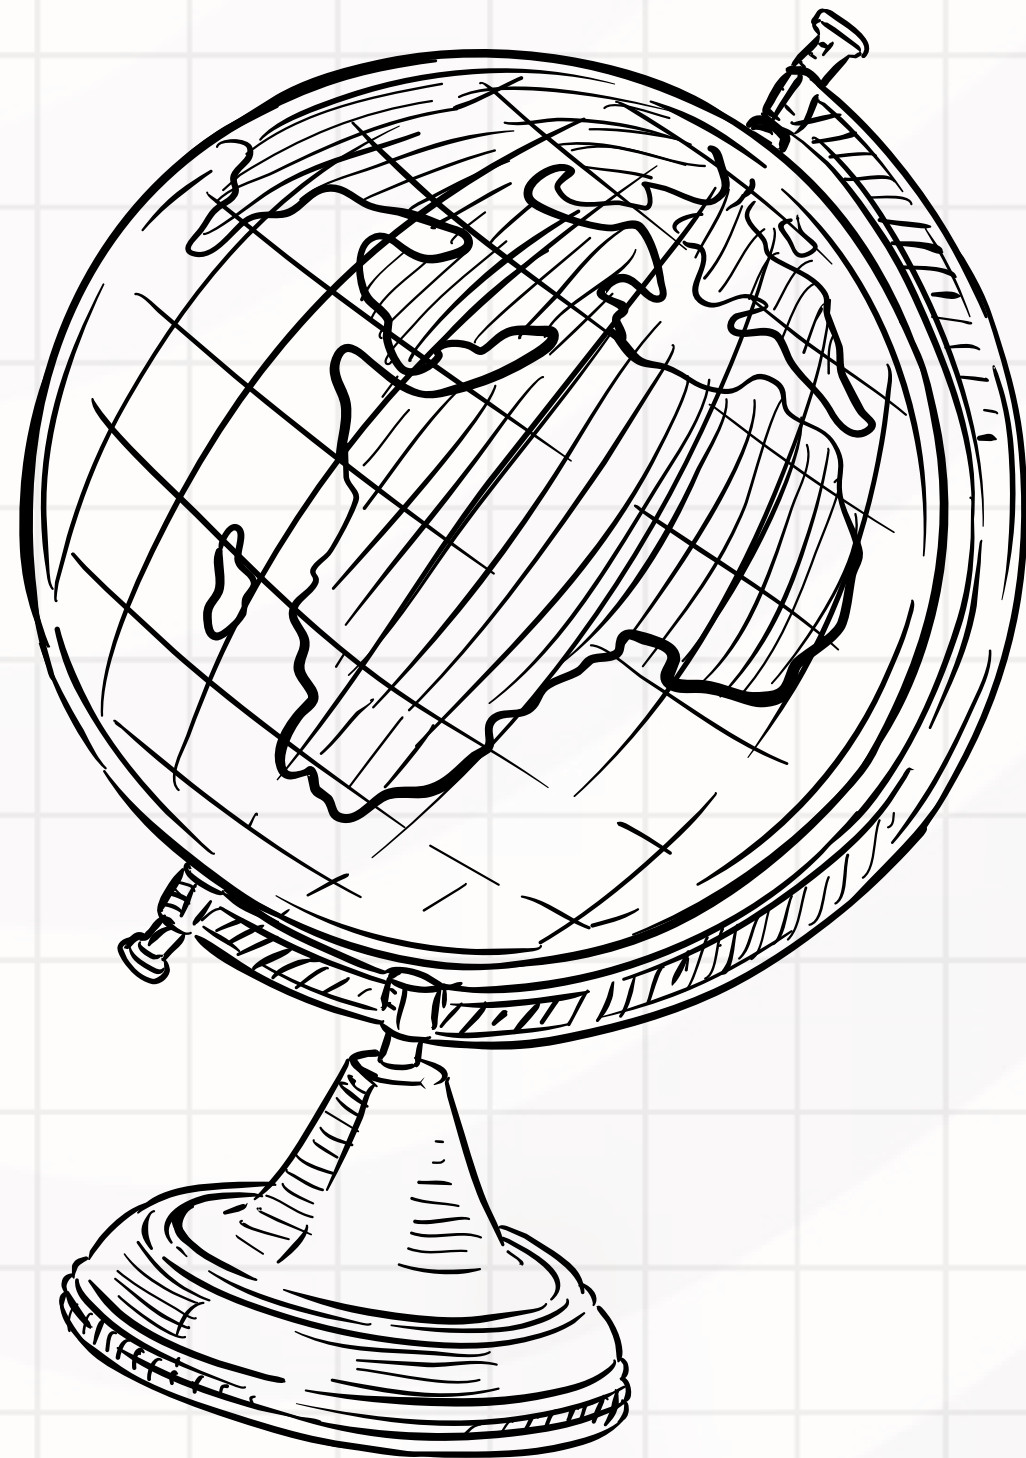

Listen to Kevin's story

Listen carefully to the story and try to find the verb in "the continuous form."

Present continuous tense

How to form it

Affirmative

Subject + [To be] + Verb-ing

Question

[To be] + Subject + Verb-ing

Negative

Subject + [To be] + not + Verb-ing

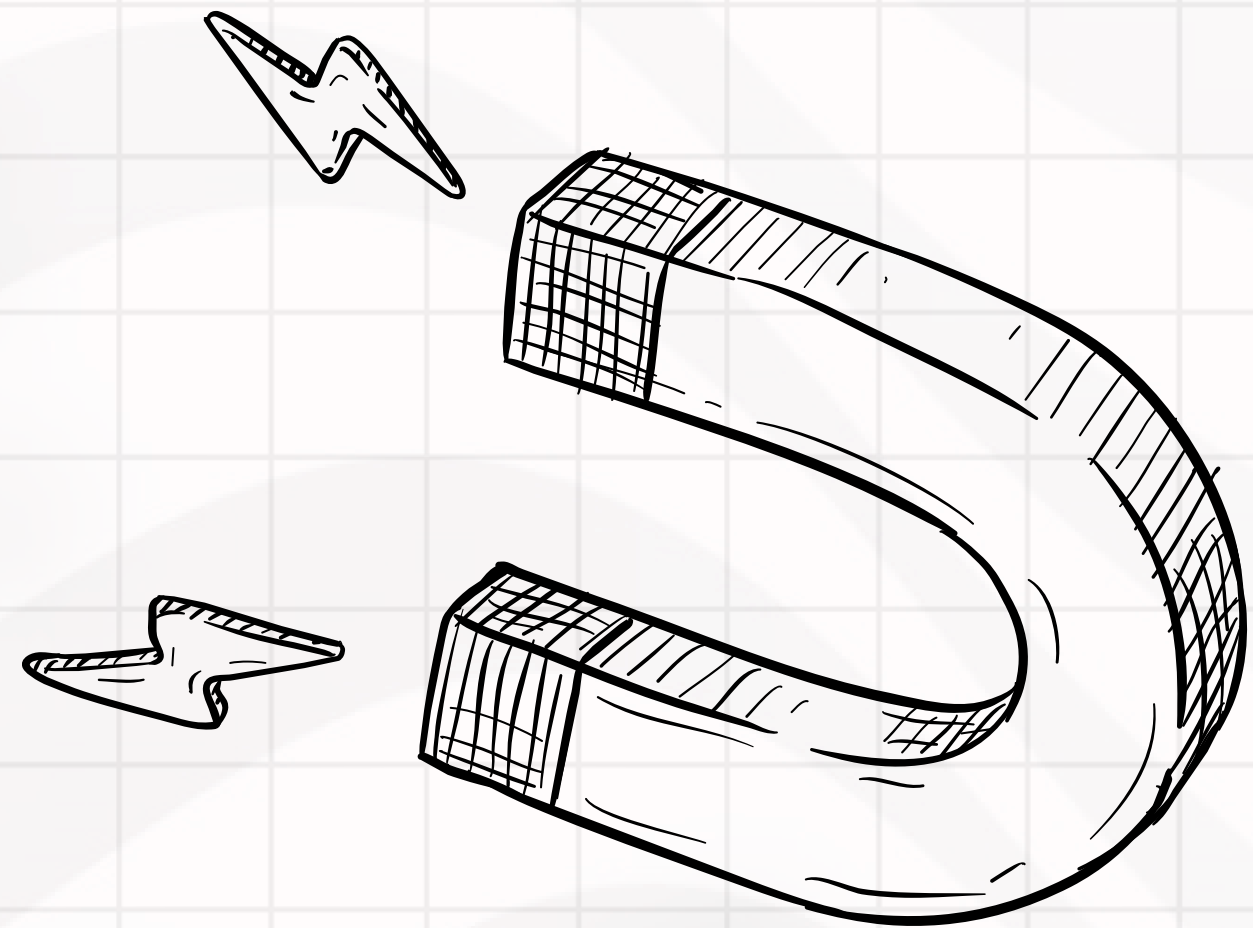

Classic use

- Actions happening at the moment of speaking

- I am going to bed.
- She is writing a letter.

- Temporary situations

- I am living in Morocco for three months.
- We are having exams these days.

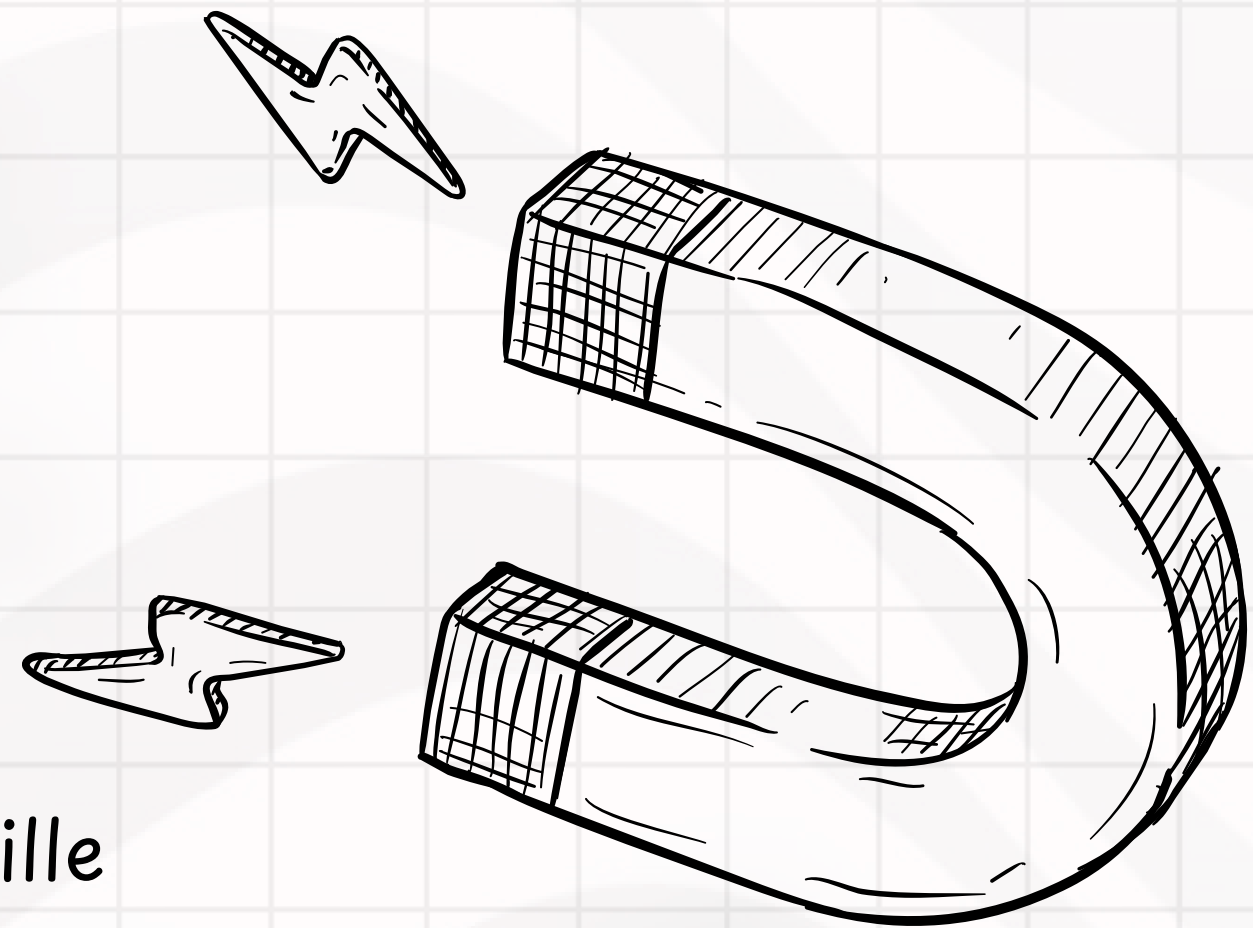

Classic use

- Repeated situations (used with always, constantly...)

- This guy is still talking about the movie.
- His friend is constantly taking the boxes people leave outside.

- Future plans or arrangements

- We are going to Fes next week.
- My brother is taking the plane to Libreville this evening.

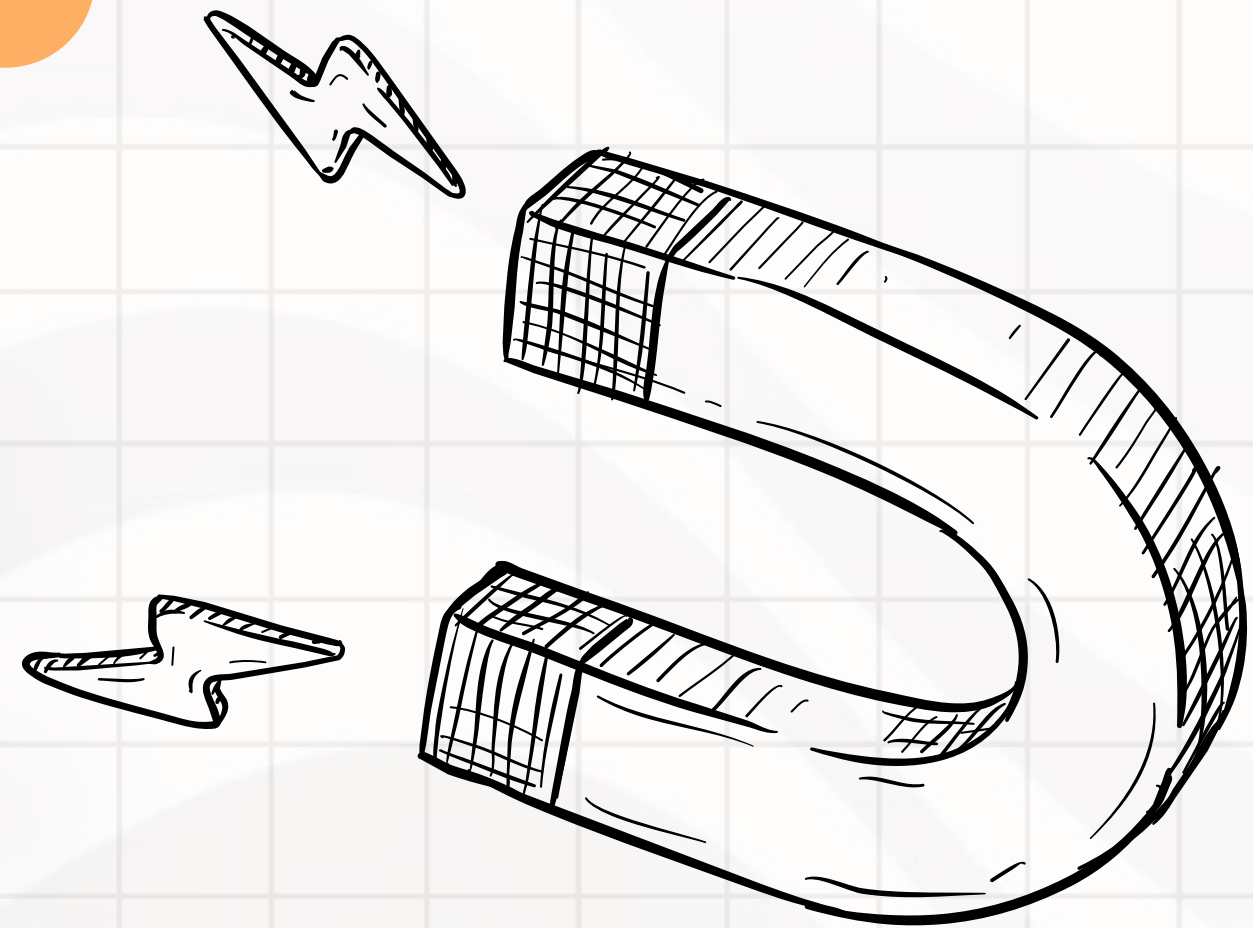

Other situations

- Emphasizing ongoing actions

- Hélène is working on her thesis.
- They are studying for their exams

- Something which is changing or developing

- The weather is getting colder this month.
- Your English is improving impressively

Build your sentences based on three aspects of usage.

Some expressions

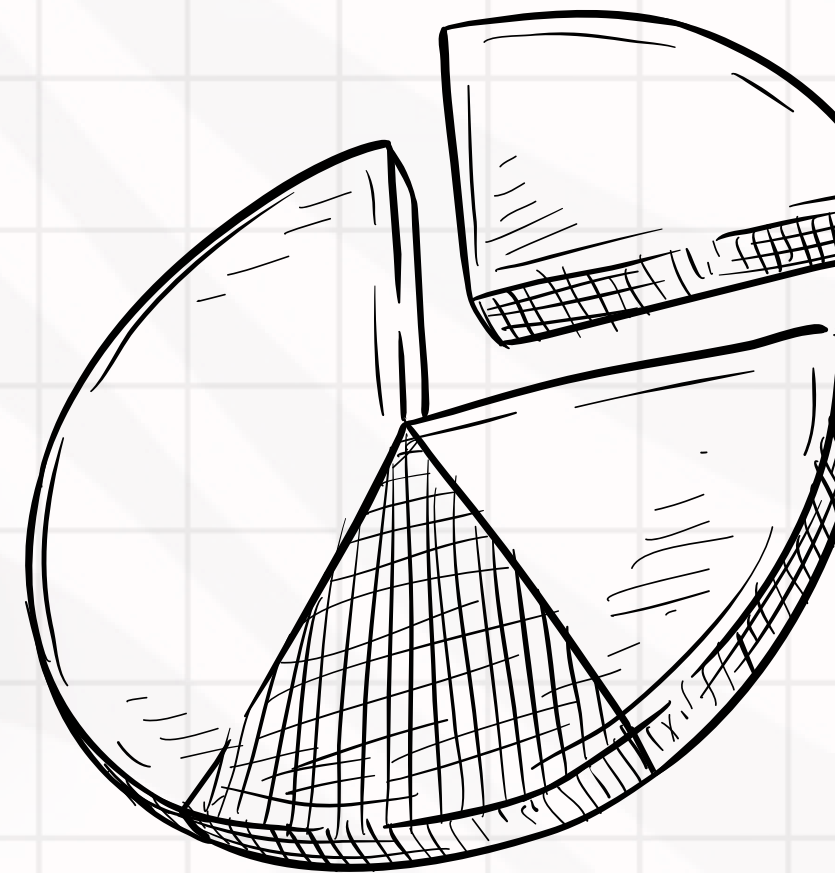

It's getting chilly.
The temperature's dropping.
They are missing the point.
He is asking for trouble.
Time is flying.

Some expressions

- It's getting chilly. => Il commence à faire froid.
- The temperature's dropping. => La température baisse.
- They are missing the point. => Ils oublient l'essentiel.
- He is asking for trouble. => Il cherche des ennuis.
- Time is flying. => Le temps passe vite.

Thank YOU !

